

Archaeological Review from Cambridge

Department of Archaeology, University of Cambridge, Downing Street, Cambridge CB2 3DZ, United Kingdom

Notes for Contributors and Style Guide

Last updated: October 2018

Submission guidelines

All submissions are considered by the volume theme editor(s) in the first instance, and suitable papers will be peer reviewed by a minimum of two experts. Peer reviewers are selected for their knowledge and, on occasion, may include members of the ARC Committee. Reviewers are asked to comment on the significance, originality, clarity and strength of papers.

Articles should not exceed 4000 words and the text must be clearly organized with appropriate subheadings and page numbers. A maximum of 10 figures per article will be accepted (5 in colour). Papers should be submitted to theme editor(s) electronically as Word documents. Authors must also inform the theme editor(s) via e-mail that their article is not currently being considered for publication by any other journal and should declare any relevant sources of funding. Book reviews should be sent directly to the book reviews editor.

Review and publication process

Papers submitted to the ARC will be reviewed two anonymous peer reviewers. The ARC operates a system of double-blind peer review, whereby only theme editor(s) are aware of the authors' identity. Following the first review, authors are asked to respond to the reviewers' feedback and make any recommended changes. Papers will then be reviewed to ensure all appropriate feedback has been addressed and authors will have a final opportunity to revise their manuscripts. If, at any point in the process, the authors require further clarification on comments made by peer reviewers, they must contact the theme editor(s). Authors will receive a .pdf proof of their article prior to publication, so that any minor corrections (such as typographical or factual errors) may be made.

Authors are requested to respect deadlines: delays from their side may result in the article not being published. Please note that the committee decision regarding acceptance is final, and the committee reserve the right to reject papers which are unsuitable at any point in the publication process. Following publication, authors will receive one free copy of the final version of the volume containing their article. The ARC is not in a position to offer free volumes to book reviewers, who will receive a .pdf copy of the final version of their review.

Manuscript preparation

Please follow the guidelines below when preparing your manuscript for submission. Articles should be submitted as .doc files, with images and tables sent as separate files (see image regulations below). Text should be sent with 12 pt. font size and 1.5 line spacing. All papers are published in English.

Structure:

Archaeological Review from Cambridge

Department of Archaeology, University of Cambridge, Downing Street, Cambridge CB2 3DZ, United Kingdom

Title

Author's name and affiliation, including corresponding email address

Abstract (up to 150 words)

Text (4000 words maximum, not including Acknowledgements and References)

Acknowledgments

References

Table and Figure Captions

Image regulations

All images submitted for publication must either belong to the author or have written proof of copyright reproduction. The ARC reserves the right not to publish any images submitted. Due to limits on printing space, a maximum of 10 figures per article will be accepted, and a maximum of 5 of these may be in colour.

Figures should be submitted separately as .pdf, .jpg or .tif files and files should be named after author and figure number, e.g. 'Smith_Figure 1'. Figure captions should be compiled at the end of the manuscript. All line diagrams and photographs should be referred to as '(fig. 1)' or 'Figure 1' in the manuscript and numbered consecutively. Figures should be submitted without borders included in the image, although exceptions may be made in the case of maps. Photographs must be of good quality and at least 400 dpi at 5 inches wide (landscape format) or 3 inches wide (portrait format). Please use .tif format and CMYK colour whenever possible. Line drawings and scans of pen-and-ink drawings must be presented in a form suitable for immediate reproduction – if they are jpegs or similar, they must be 1200 dpi. All maps must include an accurate scale and North arrow.

Tables should be submitted as separate .pdf or .doc files, and should have short, descriptive captions which are compiled at the end of the manuscript. When reproducing a table from a published source, the source needs to be cited in the caption. Graphs should be sent in the original format and the ARC reserves the right to reproduce the graph in a different format if necessary (i.e. in Illustrator) to create the correct text, print size and quality for publication. Data provided by the author(s) will remain unchanged.

Copyright and Open Access

Authors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce in print and online any copyrighted images or materials for which they do not retain ownership. If your manuscript is accepted, you will be asked to provide proof of any necessary permissions prior to publication.

Before publication, authors will be asked to assign copyright for their contribution to the ARC in accordance with publishing under a CC BY-NC license. This ensures that any requests by third parties to reprint or reproduce all or part of an article can be handled quickly and efficiently. Articles will be made available open access 6 months following publication and hosted on the Cambridge University Library online repository (www.repository.cam.ac.uk), where they will be assigned a DOI. Authors are asked not to share their articles within the 6 month embargo period and, in accordance with the CC BY-NC license, posting copies of manuscripts on commercial sites such as Academia.edu, Twitter and Facebook is prohibited. Manuscripts may be linked to either through the ARC webpage or the University Library repository.

Archaeological Review from Cambridge

Department of Archaeology, University of Cambridge, Downing Street, Cambridge CB2 3DZ, United Kingdom

Style Guide

Figures and Tables

Citing figures in text: (fig. 4) or 'see Figure 4' written in a sentence.

Citing tables in text: (table 3) or 'see Table 3' written in a sentence.

Captions: Fig. 1. Photo of the Department of Archaeology, University of Cambridge (reproduced with permission of Jane Doe).

Figures that belong to the author should be cited as '(photograph by Tom Smith).'

If figures do not belong to the author and are reproduced, permissions must be sought.

The caption should include '(reproduced with permission of Tom Smith).'

If figures do not belong to the author but have been reasonably modified, permissions do not have to be sought. However, the original author must be cited, e.g. '(after Smith 2007: Plate III)'

Footnotes/Endnotes

The Archaeological Review from Cambridge uses the Harvard style of referencing, not footnotes. Use of footnotes should therefore be kept to a minimum and should not be used to extend the content of the paper. Endnotes will not be accepted. Footnotes should be indicated in the text by superscript numbers after punctuation, (e.g. text here,¹ and not *text here*¹). Superscripts should go at the end of a sentence, unless it directly references a concept in the middle of a sentence.

Citations

Please ensure that all references cited within the text are included in the bibliography.

In-text citations should follow this format:

Single author e.g. (Smith 1998: 15).

Multiple authors: two authors should be cited with 'and', e.g. (Smith and Jones 2002). However, more than three authors should be cited with 'et al.', e.g. (Smith et al. 2002).

Multiple citations at once: should be placed alphabetically and should be separated by semicolons, e.g. (Jones 2005; Smith 1998).

Multiple works by the same author should be listed with the author's name and dates in chronological order and separated by a comma, e.g. (Smith 1998, 2000)

Archaeological Review from Cambridge

Department of Archaeology, University of Cambridge, Downing Street, Cambridge CB2 3DZ, United Kingdom

Multiple works by different authors should be listed alphabetically with a semicolon separating authors, e.g. (Smith 1998, 2000; Zeder 2006).

Multiple works by the same author in the same year should be identified using a and b, e.g. (Smith 1998a, 1998b).

If the author is named in the sentence the year should be cited directly after the author's name, e.g. 'Smith (2000: 22) states that...'

References

Full references should be provided at the end of the manuscript and listed in alphabetical order, following the format below. Please note that only book titles and journal names require full capitalization.

Place of publication and publisher is required for all books, but not journals. Where the place of publication is in the USA, the city and not the state should be cited. The only exception is with Washington, DC.

Journal issue numbers should be included where applicable, i.e. 23(4): 1–23.

Examples

Journal Articles

Bednarik, R.G. 1996a. Neolithic horse burial in Italy. The Artefact 19: 102–103.

Bednarik, R.G. 1996b. Only time will tell: A review of the methodology of direct rock art dating. Archaeometry 38(1): 1–13.

Gummesson, S., Hallgren, F. and Kjellström, A. 2018. Keep your head high: skulls on stakes and cranial trauma in Mesolithic Sweden. Antiquity 361: 74–90.

Chapter in Book

Frankel, D. 1991. Ceramic variability: Measurement and meaning. In Barlow, J.A., Bolger, D. and Kling B. (eds). Cypriot Ceramics: Reading the Prehistoric Record (University Museum Monograph 74). Philadelphia: University of Pennsylvania, University Museum, 241–252.

Harris, O.J.T., Rebay-Salisbury, K., Robb, J. and Sørensen, M.L.S. 2013. The body in its social context. In Harris, O.J.T. and Robb, J. (eds). The Body in History: Europe from the Palaeolithic to the Future. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 64–97.

Authored Books

Seidler, V.J. 1994. Recovering the Self: Morality and Social Theory. London: Routledge.

Seidler, V.J. 1994. Recovering the Self: Morality and Social Theory. London: Routledge.

Edited Book

Goodenough, W.H. (ed.). 1996. Prehistoric Settlement of the Pacific. Philadelphia: American Philosophical Society.

Archaeological Review from Cambridge

Department of Archaeology, University of Cambridge, Downing Street, Cambridge CB2 3DZ, United Kingdom

Goodenough, W.H. (ed.). 1996. Prehistoric Settlement of the Pacific. Philadelphia: American Philosophical Society.

Schortman, E.M. and Urban, P.A. (eds). 1992. Resources, Power and Interregional Interaction. New York: Plenum Press.

Translated Text

Foucault, M. 1982. The Archaeology of Knowledge. Trans. Sheridan Smith, A.M. New York: Pantheon.

Unpublished Theses

Smith, T. 2008. An Investigation into the Burial Treatment of Lepers in Mediaeval Croatia. Unpublished MPhil dissertation submitted to the University of Cambridge.

Unpublished Conference Paper

Schulting, R. 2008. War without warriors? The nature of interpersonal conflict before the emergence of formalized elites. Paper presented at the Sixth World Archaeological Congress, Dublin.

Book Reviews

Stoczkowski, W. 2007. Review of Garrett Fagan (ed.). Archaeological Fantasies. Antiquity 81: 472–473.

Webpages with Authors

Osmanagic, S. 2006. The formula to understand the Bosnian pyramids. Bosnian Pyramid!? Website: <http://www.bosnian-pyramid.net/Pyramid-news/Bosnian-pyramid-latest-news/-The-Formula-to-understand-The-Bosnian-Pyramids-%11-by-Semir-Osmanagic/>, accessed on 5 July 2007.

Osmanagic, S. 2006. The formula to understand the Bosnian pyramids. Bosnian Pyramid!? Website: <http://www.bosnian-pyramid.net/Pyramid-news/Bosnian-pyramid-latest-news/-The-Formula-to-understand-The-Bosnian-Pyramids-%11-by-Semir-Osmanagic/>, accessed on 5 July 2007.

Webpages without Authors

BBC. 2006. Bronze age rubbish tip unearthed. BBC News online. Website: http://news.bbc.co.uk/1/hi/scotland/glasgow_and_west/8000233.stm, accessed on 21 April 2009.

BBC. 2006. Bronze age rubbish tip unearthed. BBC News online. Website: http://news.bbc.co.uk/1/hi/scotland/glasgow_and_west/8000233.stm, accessed on 21 April 2009.

Spelling

Please use British English. Note: the Oxford English Dictionary often favours ‘-ize’ spellings (e.g. colonize, civilization). When in doubt, consult the Oxford Dictionary for Writers and Editors or the online Oxford English Dictionary (<http://www.oed.com>).

Archaeological Review from Cambridge

Department of Archaeology, University of Cambridge, Downing Street, Cambridge CB2 3DZ, United Kingdom

Please use British English. Note: the Oxford English Dictionary often favours ‘-ize’ spellings (e.g. colonize, civilization). When in doubt, consult the Oxford Dictionary for Writers and Editors or the online Oxford English Dictionary (<http://www.oed.com>).

Some commonly misspelt words:

archaeology
artefact focused modelled practice (noun)/practise (verb) programme

Capitalizations

Archaeological features: should not be capitalized, e.g. ‘pit B’ and not ‘Pit B’.

Archaeological periods: should be capitalized, e.g. Neolithic, Medieval, Palaeolithic.

Punctuation

Titles of books, journals and films should be in italics.

Serial commas should not be used. Oxford commas are acceptable only where necessary to avoid confusion, or to separate lists of items which are not single words.

n-dashes should be used to indicate spreads of page numbers or years, e.g. (Smith 2000: 10–50) and AD 1000–1500.

Serial commas should not be used. Oxford commas are acceptable only where necessary to avoid confusion, or to separate lists of items which are not single words.

n-dashes should be used to indicate spreads of page numbers or years, e.g. (Smith 2000: 10–50) and AD 1000–1500.

m-dashes should be used to indicate a clause set off from the rest of the sentence, do not use ‘space hyphen space’ or ‘space n-dash space’, e.g. “He was a good person—although not in that particular instance” and not “He was a good person – although not in that particular instance”.

Quotations

Double quotation marks are used only for direct quotes or spoken speech.

Single quotes marks indicate concepts, e.g. ‘complex’ societies.

If the quote starts with a capital letter in the original version, it should do so in the quotation.

Indented Quotes: quotes longer than one line (or multiple sentences. Basically, anything over 50 words) should be inset, as such:

Both examples...naturalised (Orser 2007: 181).

Note that there is a line space before and after the quote and that no quote marks are used. Where the author has been named in the sentence preceding the quote, the full reference should be in the sentence as opposed to the quote, e.g.

Archaeological Review from Cambridge

Department of Archaeology, University of Cambridge, Downing Street, Cambridge CB2 3DZ, United Kingdom

As noted by Salzman (2002: 245):

By means...empirically.

Abbreviations

Titles: a full stop is never used if the abbreviation ends with the letter of the actual word, e.g. Dr not Dr., Mr not Mr., but Prof. for Professor. The only exception is Fr., when referring to a religious person (e.g. Fr. Brown), as Fr minus the full stop refers to a chemical element.

Dates: abbreviations such as kyr, kya and ka should not be used (40,000 BP instead).

Please write out &, > and < , % in-text.

Titles: a full stop is never used if the abbreviation ends with the letter of the actual word, e.g. Dr not Dr., Mr not Mr., but Prof. for Professor. The only exception is Fr., when referring to a religious person (e.g. Fr. Brown), as Fr minus the full stop refers to a chemical element.

Dates: abbreviations such as kyr, kya and ka should not be used (40,000 BP instead).

Please write out &, > and < , % in-text.

Ibid., op. cit. and similar are not allowed.

Numbers and Measurements

Numbers: under 10 should be written out in full, numbers over 10 should be listed in digits.

Measurements: should be metric wherever possible.

Numbers: under 10 should be written out in full, numbers over 10 should be listed in digits.

Measurements: should be metric wherever possible.

Units: should not be preceded by a space, e.g. 700km.

Dates

Commas: no commas in thousands of years old, but there are commas in tens of thousands of years old, e.g. 4500 BC and 12,000 BP.

Uncalibrated dates: are denoted bc or bp (e.g. 4000 bc), while calibrated dates are noted thusly: 3500 cal BC. Ideally, radiocarbon dates will include cal or uncal.

Decades: 1960s, i.e. without an apostrophe.

Abbreviated decades: spelled out, e.g. 'the Sixties' and not 'the 60s'. The decade is always capitalised.

Centuries or millennia: must be spelled out, e.g. fourth century AD or third millennium BC, but AD 400 and 600 BC.

Millions of years: may be abbreviated (to Ma).

Commas: no commas in thousands of years old, but there are commas in tens of thousands of years old, e.g. 4500 BC and 12,000 BP.

Uncalibrated dates: are denoted bc or bp (e.g. 4000 bc), while calibrated dates are noted thusly: 3500 cal BC. Ideally, radiocarbon dates will include cal or uncal.

Decades: 1960s, i.e. without an apostrophe.

Abbreviated decades: spelled out, e.g. 'the Sixties' and not 'the 60s'. The decade is always capitalised.

Centuries or millennia: must be spelled out, e.g. fourth century AD or third millennium BC, but AD 400 and 600 BC.

Archaeological Review from Cambridge

Department of Archaeology, University of Cambridge, Downing Street, Cambridge CB2 3DZ, United Kingdom

Commas: no commas in thousands of years old, but there are commas in tens of thousands of years old, e.g. 4500 BC and 12,000 BP.

Uncalibrated dates: are denoted bc or bp (e.g. 4000 bc), while calibrated dates are noted thusly: 3500 cal BC. Ideally, radiocarbon dates will include cal or uncal.

Decades: 1960s, i.e. without an apostrophe.

Abbreviated decades: spelled out, e.g. 'the Sixties' and not 'the 60s'. The decade is always capitalised.

Centuries or millennia: must be spelled out, e.g. fourth century AD or third millennium BC, but AD 400 and 600 BC.

Millions of years: may be abbreviated (to Ma).